DETAILED ACTION

The following Office Action is in response to the Amendment and arguments filed 10/14/2008.

Claims 1-10, 15-16, 20-27 are pending, claims 20-27 are new.

Election/Restrictions

Newly submitted claims 20-27 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: as reasoned in the Restriction requirement mailed 2/27/2008.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 20-27 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it includes language which may be implied ("The present invention enables..." see below, emphasis added). Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 1-10 recite a process comprising the steps of receiving, receiving, assessing and applying, Based on Supreme Court precedent, a proper process must be tied to another statutory class or transform underlying subject matter to a different state or thing (Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780,787-88 (1876)). Since neither of these requirements is met by the claim, the method is not considered a patent eligible process under 35 U.S.C. 101. To qualify as a statutory process, the claim should positively recite the other statutory class to which it is tied, for example by identifying the apparatus that accomplished the method steps or positively reciting the subject matter that is being transformed, for example by identifying the material that is being changed to a different state.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 3691

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10, 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shutes (US 2001/0044781 A1).

Specifically as to claims 1 and 16, Shutes discloses a computer-implemented method, and associated computer readable medium for creating reports from financial data in a financial software application, the method comprising: receiving a selection of a report template to be used to create a report, wherein the report template includes query parameters, layout information and content field information; receiving financial data from a data source; assessing whether the financial data is comparable with the report template by examining a data file type and contents of the financial data to ensure consistency with the selection of the report template and the content field information; and applying the received layout information and received content field information to the received financial data to generate a report, the report having a layout specified by the layout information, and including content associated with the content field information (see abstract, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169, 0217, 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, 0301, 0303-4, 0307, 0317, 0319, 0332, 0354, 0355, 0401-424).

Specifically as to claim 2, outputting the report to an output device (see above rejections for claims 1 and 16, in addition figure 41 J, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169).

Art Unit: 3691

Specifically as to claim 3, the output device is a computer monitor (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition figure 41 J, paragraphs 0303-4, 0307, 0317, 0319, 0332, 0354, 0355, 0401-424).

Specifically as to claim 4, the output device is a printer (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition paragraph 0403, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169).

Specifically as to claim 5, the output device is storage medium (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition paragraph 0445, 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, and 0301).

Specifically as to claim 6, data source is a storage device (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition paragraph 0445, 0303-4, 0307, 0317, 0319, 0332, 0354, 0355, 0401-424).

Specifically as to claim 7, template is selected using the Internet (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition paragraph 0445, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169).

Specifically as to claim 8, storing the selected template locally (see above rejections for claims 1, 16, in addition paragraph 0433, 0060, 0134).

Specifically as to claim 9, the selected template includes version information, and prior to applying the received layout information and received content field information to the received financial data, the template version is compared to a version associated with the received financial data to determine whether the financial data is compatible with the selected template (see above rejections for claims 1 and 16, in addition, inherently one would check to see if the version of one would be compatible to open the files of another, paragraph 0467, 0411).

Specifically as to claim 10, responsive to a determination that the financial data is compatible with the selected template, generating the report (see above rejections for claims 1, 9, 16, in addition paragraphs 0069-0070, figure 14, step 28, paragraph 0248, 301, 307, 372, 410, 443, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169) .

Art Unit: 3691

Specifically as to claim 15, Shutes discloses a system for creating reports from financial data in a financial software application, the system comprising: a template data store for storing report templates, the report templates including layout information and content field information used to generate a report; a user data store for storing user financial data; and a report engine, communicatively coupled to the template data store and the user data store, for receiving template data from the template data store and user data from the user data store, and for generating reports by applying the template data to the user data and generating the report template by extracting query parameters, content files and report layout information for reports and exporting the report template (see abstract, paragraph 0050, 0118, 0060, 0062, 0065, 0138, 0143, 0169, 0217, 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, 0301, 0303-4, 0307, 0317, 0319, 0332, 0354, 0355, 0401-424, figure 14 as well as the above citation for the above rejections).

Examiner's Note

Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims below for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings in the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant, in preparing the responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the examiner.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10/14/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regards to applicant's argument that Shutes does not disclose "receiving a selection of a report template...and content field information", Examiner disagrees. Shutes discloses this limitation in paragraphs 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, 0301.

With regards to applicant's argument that Shutes does not disclose "assessing where the financial data is compatible...a data file type and contents of the financial data", Examiner disagrees as disclosed in the above rejection in paragraphs 0217, 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, 0301, 0303-4 and figure 14 of Shutes.

With regards to applicant's argument that Shutes does not disclose "generating a report template by extracting query parameters, content fields... exporting the report template", Examiner disagrees as disclosed in the above rejection in paragraphs 0217, 0243, 0248-0249, -272, 0294, 0301, 0303-4 and figure 14 of Shutes.
